

News of the Reservation

(By our Tuba City Correspondent)

The holidays passed on the reservation with all the happiness and merrymaking that the season of glad tidings and great joy brings. At the Navajo school, the children under the direction of Professors Freeman and Her-aughan, rendered a very complimentary program and it was gratifying to all interested in the advancement of the Indian, to see and hear the little Indian children render songs and recitations. Drills and exercises that were in all as good as the average that is seen in the school world. Miss Rachel Wilson and Master Scott Preston recited in a very promising way and it was with difficulty that the Indians were brought to order, their appreciation and delight was so great in the effort of Master Scott. The Christmas tree was heavily laden with remembrances to all, and all feel a keen sense of appreciation and goodwill towards Mr. and Mrs. Wm. T. Sullivan whose efforts crowned the evening with success. Aside from the entertainment given by those in charge of the school, another was given under the direction of Mr. D. K. Wood, missionary in charge of the Mission church at Tuba. This was a grand success and all praises are due to Mr. and Mrs. Wood, whose youth and intelligence has been willingly given to the greatest of all human endeavor, the betterment of our fellow man.

On New Year's eve a "watch" was held at Mr. S. S. Preston's home. There were about forty guests present and a very enjoyable time was spent until the new year was rung in by Miss Ethel Wood with a club and a wash tub. There were many games played during the evening—one of the many was a New Year's resolution game in which you picked out a card and it resolved the picker to do something and he had to resolve himself to it, whether he felt like resolving or not. To Mr. Preston fell the resolve, to go away back and sit down and say nothing for five minutes, and those who know "Press" feel that some one had it in for him for knowing him, they know that no more awful punishment could have been meted out to the jovial Indian trader, but he took his medicine with his usual good nature, and went away back and sat down. Now there is a hot discussion whether he remained quiet five seconds or just two. The lot of H. K. Warren was to carry on a mimic telephonic conversation with his best girl and he did it as though he was used to it, but disclaimed all knowledge of the fair sex, although when pressed for the cause of such perfection in the art, he did admit of having loafed some around Flagstaff's City Hall with George Fleming.

A very enjoyable dance and entertainment was given Friday evening by the ladies. There were about thirty couples in the grand march. The music was furnished by the Purple Sage Orchestra. Refreshments were served by the Young Ladies' Menu Club, and if the heart is reached through the stomach, the men have all been "touched."

W. T. Garthwaite has resigned from the position of expert farmer, and is expecting to locate in the west. He is succeeded by Mr. Robinson from Iowa.

Earl Boner, trader with Babbitt and Warren, Red Lake, besides his many occupations as a trader and cattleman has embarked in the undertaking business and will now perform the corporal work of mercy—to bury the dead. A friendly Injun dropped in to see Earl last week, and after passing a few friendly greetings retired to a hogan pot far from the store and quietly passed into the happy hunting ground. As usual the Indians burned the hogan to rid it of the evil one, and in their superstitious fear of the dead left the body unburied. So Earl wrapped the warrior in his war robe and laid him in his last resting place. Earl says it is his first job but that it was a good one and that any Indian who has accommodation enough about him to come to Red Lake and die, will be guaranteed decent burial.

Supt. Sullivan with Mrs. Sullivan, Mrs. John Stewart and Mr. Ferguson made a sixty-eight mile trip by auto in the direction of Kaventa. This is the first time an auto made its way into this part of the country and some of the noble red men are moving yet.

Miss Snellings, who has been ill for some time, expects to leave about the 15th for Iowa, in an endeavor to regain her health.

Late returns from the scene of the recent Indian trouble are that there were two fierce scraps. The first took place on the top of Beautiful Mountain, a sort of family row, for the honor of shooting the first soldier—and the second in a sort of hair pulling fight and foot race to be the first to surrender when the soldiers arrived.

EASTERNERS MIX UP ON GEOGRAPHY

Washington Society Editor Gets Capitol of Arizona Way Down in Tejano County—Many Such Errors

Arizona should go down in Mexico and eat tamales!

Bloomin' furriners, that's what Arizona's are! The Washington Herald Society editor says so. In Sunday's issue of the women's page, this product of the effect says:

"Vice President and Mrs. Marshall will return on Thursday from Texas, where they have been visiting relatives near Phoenix."

The only stunt that can match that is that of a publishing firm located at Boston, Massachusetts. This firm consigned a shipment of school geographies to the public schools of New Mexico and Arizona, and enclosed CUSTOM STATEMENTS to be used at the frontier—Raton, New Mexico!

Can you beat that?

Yes. Here's another.

A Phoenician opened his mail recently and let escape a howl that reverberated throughout the domicile. Wiley came rushing and Hubby, showed her a letter from his friend Professor F. of Yalevard University. The letter said:

"And do you often hear the roar of canon? I should think Phoenix would not be a very safe place to live—so near the bloody battlefields of the troubled republic. My dear friend, I expect daily to hear that you and your estimable wife have come to grief through the raids of those horrible Mexican ruroles. You know any time that country gets to hot to live in, come to Squeedunk, New York state and spend the winter with us. We have nothing but political wars here, you know."

And so it goes. New Mexico and Arizona, the last admitted states can not be recognized as such yet. They have to outgrow and outlive their wild and woolly days. The east with all its geography professors cannot seem to encompass the strange fact of Uncle Sam's adoption of the two poor orphan territories.—Phoenix Republican.

INNOCENT MAN WAS THE SUFFERER

Late Friday night in an altercation among drunken sheepherders at Humboldt, Joe Paquette of Ash Fork was stabbed several times and is now in Mercy hospital in this city in a serious condition.

No particulars of the affair have been given publicity, other than the wounded man was viciously and wantonly attacked while endeavoring to pacify the beligerents. One thrust entered the abdomen and another is on the right leg close to the groin. It was deemed advisable to bring him to this city yesterday morning about 3 o'clock where better accommodations are available for handling cases of this grave nature. The injured man is a brother of Simon Paquette of Ash Fork.—Journal Miner.
